What is an Interactive Whiteboard?

It is a software technology that uses a special whiteboard, projector and computer to engage our students with vivid images, video & audio - bringing every classroom to life.

The Portsmouth School Department funded two interactive whiteboards at Dondero School two years ago. The whiteboards are used in 4th and 5th grade classrooms.

Both teachers and students love this technology!

Teachers can use this technology to demonstrate a writing lesson, conduct an online research project, or execute a math quiz. Among other uses, students can play interactive math games and watch the life cycle of a bee for science class!

Want to learn more about the future of your child's education?

Do you want to learn how you can help?

Come see a demonstration of this technology at the next PTA meeting on November 5th, from 6:45 to 7:15 PM in Mrs. Dunham's classroom.

And be sure to stay for the PTA meeting!

PTA Meeting
November 5, 2009
6:45 - 8:30pm

6:45 - Learn About the Smart WhiteBoard Technology.
A presentation by Josh Evans, John Bouchard & Emy Adams will discuss the history & the future of this technology in our community. Mr. Evans (5th Grade Teacher) will also demonstrate the technology and give some of us a "pop" quiz using the student remote controls.

7:15 - Special Guest - Superintendent Ed McDonough will be here to introduce himself and give a brief state of the union address
